

Celebration of International Mother Language Day dated February 17, 2025

International Mother Language Day was celebrated by the students and teachers of the morning section of Victoria Institution (College).

Songs, recitations and speech related to 'Bhasa Andolon' made the entire program informative as well as vibrant. Heartfelt homage has been paid to the martyrs of 'Bhasa Andolon' in Bangladesh.

Through this program, love and respect was conveyed, not only to one's mother language but also to other regional languages, minority languages and international languages which are regarded as mother languages by races and communities across the world.

It is felt by all that the conservation of extinct and endangered languages is the need of the hour. Sincere thanks to Dr. Maitreyi Ray Kanjilal, Principal of VIC for her support and encouragement. Thanks to Dr. Sumallya Karmakar, IQAC Coordinator, for his help. Whole-hearted participation by the students and teachers of the morning section, VIC made the entire program successful. Thanks to all of them.
